ACT TWO: THE OVERLONG TITLE THAT A WRITER PASTED FROM A LOGLINE BECAUSE THE TITLE FIELD ALLOWS TWO HUNDRED CHARACTERS AND NOBODY STOPPED TYPING IT ALL OUT BEFORE SAVING THE ACT

3 sequences · 7 scene cards · 3 beats

NOTE Shoot this with the practical lantern only. No overhead lights, no bounce.
Marine unit confirms the shed is tidal: the floor is under water from 16:10, so the usable window is about forty minutes. Rehearse dry, then shoot both takes wet.
Open question for the director: do we cut to the exterior before or after the brother's line? The pickup in Act Two depends on the answer, and the sound team needs it before the recce on Thursday.

COMMENT RESOLVED Daniel Costa
Title agreed with the writer; will shorten in the next pass.

SEQUENCE Establishing the world, the people, the weather, the debt, the rumour and the one thing nobody in the village will say out loud — 6 scene cards · 1 beat

> NOTE Shoot this with the practical lantern only. No overhead lights, no bounce.
> Marine unit confirms the shed is tidal: the floor is under water from 16:10, so the usable window is about forty minutes. Rehearse dry, then shoot both takes wet.

> COMMENT OPEN Priya Menon
> This sequence is too long. Split it into two before the next draft.

27 INT./EXT. HARBOURMASTER'S OFFICE - THE OLD SIGNAL TOWER STAIRWELL LEADING DOWN TO THE FLOODED BOAT SHED BELOW THE SEA WALL - CONTINUOUS - LATE AFTERNOON (THREE YEARS BEFORE THE STORM)

Ines carries the ledger down three flights while the tide chases her up the other way. She argues with her brother through the floor, and every word is a different version of the same apology. Neither of them says the name of the boat. The shed doors begin to move on their own.

> NOTE Keep the pacing slow. The scene works only if the audience believes nobody is in a hurry. The previous draft rushed it and lost the point.

> Marine safety needs the tide table for the shoot week before this can be scheduled. Please attach it to the card.
> Also confirm whether the shed counts as a confined space for insurance.
>
> > REPLY Daniel Costa
> > Tide table attached to the Production folder on Monday.
>
> > REPLY Priya Menon
> > Thanks. Insurance confirmed the shed is covered as long as the marine unit is present for every take.

> COMMENT RESOLVED Daniel Costa
> Lantern-only lighting approved by the DP.

Is this the midpoint or the second turn? The Act Two outline calls it the second turn.
